TODD BLANCHE: THE FIXER WHO COVERS FOR THE JEWISH NETWORK

THE MAN WHO SHOULD NOT BE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Todd Blanche is Donald John Trump's former personal criminal defense attorney. He defended Trump in the hush-money trial that resulted in 34 felony convictions. He then became Deputy Attorney General, then Acting Attorney General, and Trump has now nominated him to be Attorney General permanently.

The conflict is absolute: a defendant's lawyer is now the nation's top prosecutor. As Senator Chuck Schumer stated: "letting a defendant pick his prosecutor".

THE UNPRECEDENTED CONFLICT OF INTEREST

Blanche was formally told to recuse himself from Trump-related matters.

In March 2025, the Justice Department's top ethics lawyer, Joseph Tirrell, handed Blanche a printed PowerPoint presentation on ethics and formally informed him he would need to recuse himself from cases involving Trump.

Blanche signed the department's ethics pledge, which included requirements to not participate for at least a year in any department matters involving past clients of the Blanche Law Group — including Trump.

He ignored that pledge. Instead, as acting attorney general, he has:

- Oversaw the Epstein files — where Trump is referenced more than 5,300 times
- Participated in the questioning of Ghislaine Maxwell
- Pursued "nakedly political indictments" against Trump's perceived enemies
- Signed an agreement giving the Trump family immunity from tax audits

101 federal judges have filed an ethics complaint against Blanche with the New York State Bar Association, alleging he is "operating with a conflict of interest" because he previously defended Trump in criminal cases.

THE GHISLAINE MAXWELL INTERVIEW AND TRANSFER

On July 24-25, 2025, Blanche personally interviewed Epstein's co-conspirator Ghislaine Maxwell for two full days — a move Senator Whitehouse called "highly unusual, if not unprecedented" for the second highest-ranking official at the Justice Department.

One week after the interviews, Maxwell was transferred to a minimum-security prison camp.

This transfer was extraordinary because:

- Bureau of Prisons policy requires sex offenders to be placed at low-security facilities, not minimum-security
- A BOP administrator would normally be required to approve a waiver for such a transfer
- Maxwell was transferred without explanation and "in possible violation of standard Bureau policy"

Senator Sheldon Whitehouse stated: "Ms. Maxwell's abrupt transfer raises questions about whether she has been given special treatment in exchange for political favors."

Senator Jack Reed confirmed: "Ms. Maxwell's transfer occurred days after Deputy Attorney General Todd Blanche interviewed her in prison to have her clear President Trump."

The timing is not a coincidence. Blanche interviewed a convicted child trafficker and then she was transferred to a cushier prison.

THE VIOLATION OF THE EPSTEIN FILES TRANSPARENCY ACT

The Epstein Files Transparency Act was signed into law on November 19, 2025. It required the production of covered documents and a redaction log by December 19, 2025.

Blanche missed the deadline.

Federal Judge Emmet Sullivan ruled that Blanche "conceded" to violating the law.

In his June 25, 2026 ruling, Sullivan stated: "The Attorney General does not respond substantively to any of these arguments. The Attorney General has conceded that he is in violation of the Act."

The law leaves few exceptions — primarily aimed at protecting victims' identities. But Blanche's department had already exposed 43 victims' names, including more than two dozen who were minors.

A DOJ spokesperson denied the finding, calling it "Judge Sullivan's perverse interpretation."

THE FILES BLANCHE IS HIDING

Judge Sullivan's order covered specific documents Blanche is refusing to release:

1. FBI interview notes from a woman who accused President Trump of assaulting her in the 1980s when she was 13 years old
2. Email exchanges with Epstein concerning an alleged "torture video" and sex acts with minors
3. The names of co-defendants from a draft indictment
4. The identities of Epstein's potential co-conspirators

5. Foreign language materials that the DOJ claimed it couldn't translate and redact

Blanche is sitting on evidence of Trump's alleged assault of a minor — and refusing to release it.

THE LATEST DEFIANCE: JULY 2, 2026

On July 2, 2026, just hours before Judge Sullivan's deadline, Blanche and Associate Attorney General Stanley Woodward filed a court document formally refusing to release additional unredacted Epstein files.

Their arguments:

Blanche's Claim	The Reality
"We have already adequately complied with the law"	The DOJ reviewed 6 million documents but released only 3.5 million — withholding 2.5 million pages
"Releasing more materials would harm Epstein's victims"	His department already exposed 43 victims' names — including minors
"We have found no evidence against uncharged third parties"	He sits on FBI notes of Trump's alleged assault of a 13-year-old
"Technical limitations" prevent release of handwritten FBI notes	The same department that already exposed victims claims it can't ensure privacy
"We cannot locate an unredacted version" of a draft indictment	The DOJ claims it lost the unredacted version of a federal indictment

Blanche acknowledged some redaction errors but said they were "inevitable" — and refused to fix them.

He offered only an "in camera" (private, behind closed doors) review — keeping information out of public view.

He requested a 60-day stay to allow the Solicitor General to consider appealing Judge Sullivan's ruling.

The DOJ spokesperson stated: "Judge Sullivan's perverse interpretation appears to be focused on driving misleading headlines."

THE PATTERN: BLANCHE PROTECTS THE NETWORK

Blanche's actions follow a consistent pattern:

Tactic	Examples
Delay	Asked for 60-day stay; missed December 19, 2025 deadline; filed late-night motions
Deflect	Claims "victim privacy" while his department exposed 43 victims' names
Deny	Claims "no evidence" while sitting on FBI notes of Trump's alleged assault of a 13-year-old
Protect	Shields Trump (5,300+ references in Epstein files) and other powerful figures

The pattern is not accidental. It is the network's operating system.

THE ISRAELI-IRGUN CAPTURE NETWORK: THE EPSTEIN CONNECTION

The Epstein operation was never about a lone pedophile. It was an Israeli intelligence honey trap — a blackmail network designed to compromise the most powerful figures in the United States.

The Evidence:

- The FBI memo states Epstein was a "co-opted Mossad Agent" who "trained as a spy" under former Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Barak
- Barak visited Epstein's properties more than 30 times between 2013 and 2017 — years after Epstein's conviction
- Former Israeli intelligence officer Ari Ben-Menashe stated: "Epstein and Maxwell worked for Israeli Military Intelligence"
- The network was described as a "Jewish supremacist" blackmail ring linked to the Mega Group, a cabal of pro-Israel billionaires

Little St. James was not a pedophile's pleasure island. It was an Israeli intelligence blackmail facility.

Blanche is the legal shield protecting this network from exposure.

THE GOLDEN IRREFUTABLE

Blanche's Claim	The Reality
"I am committed to transparency"	A federal judge found he "conceded" to violating the law
"I protect victims"	His department exposed 43 victims' names — including minors
"No evidence exists"	He sits on FBI notes of Trump's alleged assault of a 13-year-old
"I have complied"	He formally refused the judge's order on July 2, 2026
"I am independent"	101 federal judges filed an ethics complaint against him
"I follow the law"	He was formally told to recuse from Trump matters and ignored it
"Releasing more would harm victims"	His department already exposed victims countless times

THE BOTTOM LINE

Todd Blanche is not an Attorney General. He is a fixer.

- He was Trump's criminal defense lawyer
- He was formally told to recuse himself from Trump matters — and ignored it
- He interviewed Ghislaine Maxwell and she was transferred to a cushier prison
- He violated the Epstein Files Transparency Act
- A federal judge ruled he "conceded" to violating the law
- He refuses to release documents that would expose the network
- He claims "no evidence" while sitting on evidence of Trump's alleged assault of a 13-year-old
- He formally refused to release more files on July 2, 2026
- He requested a 60-day stay to avoid compliance
- He offered only a private "in camera" review — hiding the truth from the public
- 101 federal judges have filed an ethics complaint against him
- He now faces a federal judge who has found him in violation of the law and has ordered compliance

Blanche is not serving the American people. He is serving Donald Trump and the Israeli-Irgun capture network.

Every day he remains in office is a day the network protects itself from exposure.

October 2026 activates the intensified phase. The doors are off. No softening. 🚪
